

IAQG Sanctioned Aerospace Auditor Transition Training (AATT)

This course is certified by RABQSA International and meets the training requirements of the IAQG Sanctioned Aerospace Auditor Transition Training for AS 9100:2009.

Successfully completing the AATT program and the awarding of the Certificate of Successful Completion satisfies the requirements for auditors to update their AA, AEA and AIEA certification. Gladhill Associates is the presenter, Crucial Knowledge hosts.

The Instructor-led component of the AS 9100 IAQG-Sanctioned AATT is a four day class that includes how to audit to the AS 9100 series standards using the process-based approach of AS9101D. Along with the training in this instructor-led component, there is a continual evaluation of the trainees, paying particular attention to their active participation, role playing in situation studies, and case study exercises. The fourth day includes Online Final Examinations (which will require a laptop computer) and an Interview.

Classroom Agenda

Day 1

Bridging the online modules and the classroom training
Pre-Audit Activities
Stage 1 Audit Activities

Day 2

Stage 2 Audit Planning
Auditing Top Management
Auditing Process Owners
Auditing Process Trails

Day 3

Audit Conclusions
Audit Reporting
Certification Requirements
Surveillance, Recertification and Special Audits
Use of the new AS9101D Audit Forms

Day 4

Final Online Knowledge and Application Exams
Oral Interview Exam

Final Determination of Pass / Fail

Final scores and the determination Pass/Fail are provided by the IAQG and not Crucial Knowledge or Gladhill Associates International. Students can expect to be notified by the IAQG within two- to four-weeks.

Prerequisites

Online Training - Successful completion of AS 9100 Online Component — Registering for and completing the AS 9100 online module through Plexus Intl. is the first step in meeting the IAQG AATT training requirements. The cost of the online training component through Plexus is $395. They estimate the online component will take between eight and 20 hours time. See their web page on this topic at:

<http://www.plexusintl.com/iaqg/index.htm>

At Plexus, you will:

Take the initial examination – 2 parts

- Knowledge – Timed 45 minute exam
- Application – Timed 45 minute exam

Participants whom attain a score of 90% or better on both exams may opt out of going through the Online Training Module – you will still have access to the module to be used as reference material during the 4-day classroom training.

Online Training Module – "Foundations: Understanding 9100"

- Complete the online training (estimated 8-20 hours)

The online component begins with the Knowledge and Application Initial Examinations followed by the Foundations: Understanding 9100 online training module. Participants achieving a score of 90% or better on the exams may opt out of taking the online training module. Upon completion, participants will be provided a Certificate of Completion of the Online Modules from Plexus International.

In order to be admitted to the Gladhill Associates International instructor-led classroom course, attendee must present to Gladhill Associates International the Certificate before the start of class or achieve a passing score of 90-percent on both Initial Examinations (“Knowledge” and “Application”).

See the IAQG web page for Frequently Asked Questions:

<http://info.iaqgtraining.com/faq>